AGREEMENT IS REACHED IN STRIKE AT BRIDGEPORT

Work at Remington Arms Plant Probably Will Be Resumed Monday

(By Associated Press.) BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 23.—With the arrival here today of Samuel Gompers and a number of executives of international unions, J. J. Johnston, vice president of the Structural Iron Erecting Arms company at New Haven, announced that the written agreement for settlement of the Bridgeport labor troubles had been signed. The terms of the agreement, he said, probably would be given out late today. It is announced work probably will be resumed Monday.

Mr. Johnston said it had been decided that the next move in the campaign for a eight-hour day throughout New England would be made at the Winchester Repeating Arms company at New Haven, also engaged in the manufacture of war munitions for the allies. The Winchester company is building a big addition to its plant.

TEACHERS PAY BILL PASSED BY THE SENATE

Measure Creating Office of State Auditor Also Was Passed Thursday

The senate Thursday passed the bill by Senator Walker, of the Twentieth, providing for the more prompt payment of school teachers by a unanimous vote. It passed by a vote of 25 to 6. The bill by Senator Adams, of the Thirty-third, creating the position of state auditor, also was passed.

The state auditor's bill, while passed by a large majority, carried a number of amendments. The bill creates the position of state auditor, whose duty it shall be to audit all bills or accounts against the state and to supervise the accounting in all state departments. The bill expresses the intent that all bills or accounts against the state shall be audited by the auditor before they are sent to the governor and that official has the bill must pass through the auditor's hands to be again checked.

An amendment by Senator Boykin, which was adopted provides that the auditor shall have one assistant and one clerk instead of two clerks and one assistant. An amendment by Senator Pickett, of the Eleventh, fixes the salaries of the auditor, his assistant and his clerk at $2,400, $1,800 and $900 per annum, respectively.

An amendment by Senator Peacock, of the Fourteenth, provides that the auditor shall give a $200 bond, in the penalty of the bond to be borne by the state. The officials are to be appointed by the governor.

Practically the same bill lacked three votes of passing the house of representatives on Thursday and on Friday notice of reconsideration was given. The bill required a majority of 50 votes, and received 52 votes and only 87 were cast against it. Friends of the measure declare that with a full membership present the bill will pass the house.

Although consideration of the state auditor's bill occupied the senate for nearly two days, the Walker bill on school teachers' salaries had no opposition and passed after only thirty minutes discussion.

The bill provides that the governor shall issue warrants for the salaries of teachers monthly, instead of quarterly, and provides an arrangement with the banks, whereby the treasury warrants will be honored by them, the state arranging for the payment of a small rate of interest on the warrants when there is no cash immediately available.

Senator Walker during the short discussion of the bill, asserted that under the system now in use that teachers have to discount the treasury warrants with their banks, paying in some instances as high as 6 per cent on the face value of the warrant.

With the state dealing with certain banks to handle the warrants the amount can be fixed at 4 or possibly 3 per cent, he said, making a tremendous saving for the teachers in order to make more prompt receipt of their salary warrants.

Senator Ransome, a school teacher himself, spoke lastly endorsing the bill. Without acting upon the bill to appropriate $18,000 for agricultural school America to be opened until Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

RED CROSS IS FORCED TO ABANDON MEXICO

Chaotic Conditions Compel Organization to Stop Relief Work

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Mexican situation again came to the forefront today with a conference between President Wilson and officials of the American Red Cross, who have virtually abandoned their campaign for the relief of non-combatants in the southern republic because of chaotic conditions there. The dispatch, too, of the note to Germany, caused officials to turn their attention to Mexican affairs, although no decisive move in that direction is contemplated at present.

The president's callers included Brigadier General C. Devol, general manager of the Red Cross who directed relief work in Mexico; Ernest Bicknell, national director, and Miss Mabel Boardman, a member of the central committee. General Devol was to report on the situation and his failure to get the various leaders to facilitate the work of feeding the starving civilian population. He was to tell the president that conditions are even worse than when he called on the leaders to settle their differences.

Officials and diplomats were surprised over repeated refusals by General Carranza in serving notice that he would not receive communications from or transact business with foreign governments accredited to his government at Vera Cruz. It had been generally understood that Carranza would not deride the foreign governments were awaiting action by the United States before recognizing any government in Mexico.

The effect of such action would be to cut off the Carranza government from further communication with foreign nations having ministers resident in Mexico, although it would not, it is believed, sever his informal relations with the United States as he is said to regard Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz as properly accredited agent.

Vila Governor Prepares for Last Stand in Sonora

DOUGLAS, Ariz., July 23.—Jose Maria Villa, governor of Sonora, is today hurriedly massing his available forces in the state for a last stand at Nogales, against the Carranza troops who are pushing every effort to dominate Sonora. Advice received here state that estimates based on careful observation placed the largest number of Villa troops in the town at 1,500, but it is expected that this number will be reinforced by 1,000 troops from Guaymas.

The main army of General Calles, at last accounts, was reported near Santa Cruz, where the advance guard is stationed.

BRITISH CABLE SCHOONER IS LOST IN SOUTH PACIFIC

(By Associated Press.) HONOLULU, Territory of Hawaii, July 23.—The British cable schooner Strathcona, en route from Auckland, New Zealand, to the Hawaiian Islands, was lost in the South Pacific near the Fiji Islands, according to observations brought here by the Union Line Niagara. Officers of the Niagara said a wireless message had been received at Suva, July 14, from the cable layer Iris that she was searching for the Strathcona.

One boat load of the Strathcona's crew was picked up by the Iris, but the rest of the crew which was thought to be making its way to Tongatabu or one of the outlying Fijis, was still unaccounted for. It was believed at Suva that the Strathcona piled up on Minerva reef and foundered.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS

TOLLENS' LAND TITLE BILL

Measure Drawn by Special Commission Recommended for Passage in House

After Judge Arthur G. Powell explained the proposed measure at length Thursday night, the house general jurisdiction committee No. 1 voted to recommend for passage the Tolleson land title bill, drawn by a special commission appointed at the 1914 session, and introduced at this session by Representatives Turner, of Brooks, and Barfield.

The bill was drawn by the special commission, composed of Judge Arthur G. Powell, S. M. Turner and Robert N. Holtzclaw, and was submitted to the house and senate through a special committee of the commission explaining, to some extent, the measure. Representative Barfield, of Brooks, who has been interested in the Tolleson land title system for years, sat with the bill while it was working on the bill.

The bill's object is to make the land title system of Georgia less cumbersome and more safe. The results of its passage, it is said, would be to increase tax returns and to eliminate the contested real estate.

One of its many features is to identify the land title rather than the person who owns the land, for purposes of title and taxation. Such a system has been successful in operation in Alabama and Florida.

The constitutional amendments committee of the house recommended for passage Thursday afternoon a bill to provide for change in the mode of registration for county bond election.

The railroad committee of the senate recommended for passage a bill to change the present law so that railroads will have to publish their schedules and changes in schedules only once in one newspaper in each of the counties of the state, provided, however, that notice of such changes and schedules shall be printed and distributed in the form of handbills, or posted in conspicuous places in railroad stations.

The bill would require each railroad to have a bill to allow engines whose electric headlights had gone out to come to their destination before relighting the lights, and to exempt switch engines in yards from the headlight law.

Wooten, representing the Brotherhood of Conductors and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, opposed the bill, saying that it would add a dangerous burden to conducting engineers and passengers on trains.

The senate committee on insurance reported adversely Thursday night on a bill by Senator Buchanan to reduce the insurance companies to pay the state only $10 license as compared with the $200 paid by other companies. Several insurance men spoke against the bill.

The house ways and means committee Thursday afternoon killed three bills to repeal the tax equalization law, introduced by Representatives Parker, Taylor and Sloan. A bill to amend the present auto tax law so as to tax the value of the car, and not the value of the car and its contents, was discussed by the committee.

The house judiciary committee recommended for passage bills to amend the act creating the city court of Savannah, so that judges of the municipal court can become ex-officio judges of the city court, to sit in case the city court is closed, to amend the charter of Columbus to allow the city to own and operate its own hospital, to increase the salary of the judge of the Griffin city court to $2,000; to pay the treasurer of Ware county $200 a year in place of fees.

COTTON WAREHOUSE BILL SUPPORTED BY BANKERS

Committee Hears Argument on Substitute for Senator Adams' Measure

Delegations representing banks in Atlanta, Augusta, Savannah and other Georgia cities and towns appeared Thursday afternoon before the agricultural committee of the house and senate in joint session and submitted arguments in favor of the cotton warehouse bill which the Georgia Bankers' association is urging as a substitute for the cotton warehouse bill introduced by Senator J. O. Adams, of the Thirty-third district.

The bankers' bill was drawn by Louisville A. Park, of Macon, general counsel for the Georgia Bankers' association, and is called to be simpler and more economical than the system provided by the Adams bill, but equally as efficient.

The committee, after hearing the speeches in favor of the bill, postponed action until a meeting to be called next week.

Of interest in this connection is the action taken Thursday by the agricultural, legislative and executive committees of the Georgia Bankers' association concerning Great Britain's blockade of the neutral zone of northern Europe, which blockade is holding American cotton out of those ports and destroying the market for about 3,000,000 bales.

The three committees made a formal protest against the blockade and called upon every bankers' organization in the south to state to the Georgia association in a protest to Washington.

ACCUSES MRS. CARROLL OF RUINING HIS SISTER

Women Who Stayed at Walton Street House Are Ordered to Leave

When Mrs. B. E. Carroll was charged in recorder's court Thursday with running a disorderly house at 62 Walton street, R. M. Rainwater, one of the witnesses, testified that his own sister had frequented that address. Pointing his finger at Mrs. Carroll, he exclaimed:

"You ruined my sister. You know you did; you can't deny it!"

The young committee reported adversely on a bill to allow engines whose electric headlights had gone out to come to their destination before relighting the lights, and to exempt switch engines in yards from the headlight law.

Wooten, representing the Brotherhood of Conductors and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, opposed the bill, saying that it would add a dangerous burden to conducting engineers and passengers on trains.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Mrs. JOHN TERREAU, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVERA MYERS, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, headache, backache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Peculiar Shaped Teeth May Give Father Clue To His Missing Son

Because he sucked his thumb when a baby Chester Timms today has front teeth pushed back. It is this peculiarity by which his father hopes to identify him in a nation-wide search for the young man.

The father, Robert Timms, Windsor, Ontario, Canada, has prepared a set of printed postals which he is mailing to newspapers all over the country. One of these came to The Journal office Friday. It says that Chester Timms last seen May, 1908, with a spring of rare horses, and the south of his father's home, at Linton, Pennsylvania, and Tampa, but his father for some time now has lost track of him.

Besides his peculiarly-shaped teeth, young Timms is described as follows: 23 years old, light eyes and hair, cowl in front; five feet ten inches tall; clear complexion; light ginger colored hair; gray eyes; square jaw; small nose; well built and strong; makes friends and spends money easily.

Mr. Timms will give fifty dollars for information that will locate his son, who may be going under another name.

WOMAN TRIES SUICIDE BUT HER LIFE IS SAVED

Leaving a note asking that the news of her death be broken gently to her sister, a young woman who gave her name as Miss Maggie Cowan drank part of the contents of a bottle of wood alcohol at her home on Monday, 311 Spring street, Thursday night. A quick run by the ambulance to the Grady hospital saved her life and she was comatose Friday. She told Grady authorities she was tired of living because of ill health.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY MASONS' ANNUITY

Biennial Session of Supreme Lodge Held in Medical College Auditorium

At the biennial session of the supreme lodge of the Masons' Annuity, held in the auditorium of the Atlanta Medical college Thursday, John R. Dekey was elected president of the Atlanta organization.

The other officers are: Thomas Jeffries, vice president, and H. E. Edwards, Daughaville, secretary. The board of directors is composed of James L. Mayson and Charles Nunnally, both of Atlanta; O. L. McKay, Meridian, Miss.; Judge D. A. Green, Birmingham, Ala.; and Samuel Wolfe, New Orleans.

ORDER OF AMARANTH MEETS FRIDAY NIGHT

Dixie Court No. 1 order of the Amaranth will hold its regular meeting at the Ben-Hur hall, 38 1-2 Luckie street, at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

The members are cordially invited to be present by Mrs. Eva E. Cummings, royal matron, and Mrs. Millie McClure, honored lady secretary.

Had Peliagra; Is Now Well

Ringold, La.—Mrs. S. A. Cotter, of this place, writes: "I am perfectly well and the happiest soul on earth. With every pella-gra sufferer could know of your great remedy, I know how to appreciate health and sympathy with those that are not so blest as I. Am growing stronger; gaining in weight and can do anything I ever could. Oh, I know I am well of that horrible disease, and my heart is full of rejoicing. I feel that I have come out of a dense cloud into the blessed sunshine. God be praised! He has spared my life for some good, and I feel that I have just begun to live."

There is no longer any doubt that pella-gra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucus and choking; indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope, get Baughn's Big Free Book on Pella-gra and learn about the remedy that has at last been found. Address: American Compounding Co., box 2002, Jasper, Ala. remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—(Adv.)

'INVISIBLE' PROPERTY TAX MEASURE VOTED DOWN

Senate Finance Committee Votes to Report Adversely on Persons' Bill

By vote of 8 to 5, the finance committee of the senate, of which Senator Alden, of the Fourth, is chairman, reported adversely Thursday afternoon on Senator Persons' bill to compel a return on notes, money lenders or "loan sharks" of other "invisible" property to county tax assessors.

The committee also killed an amendment to the bill introduced by Senator Persons, aimed at meeting the objections of some of the opponents of the amendment exempted banks or other incorporated institutions engaged in money-lending from the registration provision of the bill, not exempting, however, money lenders or "loan sharks" that were not incorporated. Senator Persons said the banks paid more taxes and made more complete returns than any other class of business individuals, but that he knew of "loan sharks" that did not admit to owning up to the hundreds of thousands of dollars which never paid anything but a poll tax.

Senator Persons cited a Macon case as an example of this, and admitted that under the present tax equalization law, such tax dodgers could be discovered. But, he said, although there are records kept of such loans and transactions in "invisible property," yet it requires the services of attorneys at a cost from $10 to $25 a day to hunt up these records for the use of tax assessors. His bill, he said, was to provide a means of enforcement in fifteen lines of type that would save the state over $100,000—what it would cost now to dig up records and enforce returns under the present tax laws. Senator Persons' bill, as has been outlined before, required that all bills, notes, checks in action, stocks and bonds, etc., must be returned and must bear the stamp of the tax assessors before such instruments could be sued upon in court.

The objections to this, as raised by Senator Alden, Senator Stovall, Senator Walker and others of the finance committee, was that it would allow the tax assessors to dig into and disclose intimate facts in regard to business which might prove ruinous to the credit of the business. In other words, as some of the opponents put it, many banks and business houses would have to close up their doors if their exact real credit and basis of credit were disclosed to the public.

Senator Alden opposed the bill and the amendment very strongly, insisting that such a measure could not originate in the senate anyhow, as it was a tax measure and should begin in the house. For this reason, if for no other, he urged that the bill and the amendment be killed.

GEORGIA NOT AFFECTED BY NEW EXPRESS RATES

Increased rates on small packages which were allowed the express companies by the interstate commerce commission, will not apply to such traffic inside the state of Georgia, under the railroad commission should grant the increase.

The interstate commerce commission's rate affects packages weighing less than 10 pounds, but it has no effect on any package shipped from one point to another in Georgia.

War Paper Printed During the Sixties Is Resurrected Today

They are calling for recruits and pinning the white feather on young men in England today. Just fifty-three years ago they were paying $100 bounty in Atlanta for every recruit. The Southern Confederacy, the only newspaper published here then, tells the story.

In a moulty issue for Thursday, March 6, 1862, which has been resurrected by an Atlantian, the following advertisement appears at the top of the column two:

"One thousand volunteers wanted! Fifty dollars bounty will be paid to each soldier as soon as mustered into service! Fifty dollars per annum for service! $11 per month as wages! Having received authority from the war department to raise a regiment for the month is signed Colonel Jesse A. Ginn. Below it are similar notices, signed by A. J. Vickers, Palmetto, Ga.; J. C. Morris, Conyers, Station, Ga.; Captain D. B. Henry, Sergeant J. St. Moore; Z. Rice, Captain Milton Dragons, Cobb's Georgia Legion; William Wright, well known Georgia names.

In the same issue General Robert Toombs gives his reasons for declining the Georgia senatorship in the Confederate congress. Lists of war subscriptions like those now being taken for the Belgians are printed; advertisements of stores for sale appear; also advertisements asking for cloth for "seams" for four and for zinc sheeting.

The main story of the issue is of a girl who had both legs cut off on the railroad track. She had disguised herself in a soldier's uniform and entered the army to find and revenge her father on a man who had wronged her. The poem of the day was "Rings on the Rhine."

JAMES GASTON OLDEST MEMBER OF B. OF R. T.
"Uncle Jimmie" Only Atlantian to Receive Railroad Veterans' Emblem

The only man in Atlanta to receive the veteran's emblem for twenty-five years' continuous membership in the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was presented with it at a regular meeting of Atlanta lodge No. 720.

He is James Gaston—more familiarly known as "Uncle Jimmie." He served his time on the Western and Atlantic railway through the lease of that road to the N. C. & St. L. and is known and loved by everybody from president to call boy.

"Uncle Jimmie" joined the Brotherhood July 1, 1890. Not long ago the grand lodge passed a resolution that twenty-five years' paid up membership should entitle the member to the veteran's emblem. "Uncle Jimmie" therefore became eligible July 1 of this year and the presentation was made by W. C. Puckett, of Atlanta.

FAREWELL DINNER TO DR. AND MRS. WHITE

A farewell dinner to Dr. and Mrs. John E. White will be given by the members of the Ten club at the Hotel Macon on Friday evening. Dr. White has been a member of the club since he came to Atlanta fifteen years ago.

Prof. M. L. Brittain will preside, and Judge Joseph H. Lumpkin, Judge Arthur M. Powell, Dr. E. B. Wilmer and Bishop Warren A. Candler will make talks.

COUNCIL VOTES TO CALL BOND ISSUE ELECTION

Each Item of $3,258,500 Provided for Will Be Voted on Separately

The city council Thursday voted to call an election for an issue of bonds aggregating $3,258,500 to care for the needed improvements in six of the municipal departments.

Council has divided the proposed issue as follows:

Public schools, $1,000,000.
Sewers and disposal plants, $1,000,000.
Waterworks department, $750,000.
Grady hospital, $250,000.
Fire department, $138,500.

The council resolution fixing the amount of the proposed issue instructed the city attorney to draw an ordinance calling the election, so arranging the ordinance that each item can be voted upon separately.

Council, which was in special session Thursday, took up each item separately and there was much discussion.

The longest and most heated wrangle was provoked by the Grady hospital issue, which provides $75,000 for pay wards. Dr. J. C. White wished to reduce the amount of the Grady issue so that the pay wards could not be included. He asserted that the physicians of the city did not want a pay ward at the Grady and would fight and kill the issue if it was included.

When the charge was made that the city would be competing with private sanitariums, Alderman Albert Thomson, chairman of the bond committee, replied by stating that the city already has a monopoly on the sale of water, and that it is likely to enter into competition with the Georgia Railway and Power company by installing an electrical plant at the crematory.

The proposed water bonds will enable the city to purchase much new machinery, which is badly needed.

The appropriation for the fire department is for the purpose of providing motor equipment throughout the department.

The proposed sewer bonds, it is estimated, would enable the city to complete its trunk sewerage system.

A large portion of the $1,000,000 proposed for schools would go towards the proposed university high school.

It is likely that the election will be called within the next sixty days.

RIGHT TO FIX TAX RATE IS WANTED FOR ATLANTA

Alderman Armistead Introduces Ordinance Asking for Charter Amendment

The ordinance by Alderman Jesse W. Armistead to ask the general assembly for a charter amendment, which would give the city the right to fix its own tax rate was filed Thursday afternoon with the clerk of council, but not read, as council adjourned immediately after it considered the bond committee's report for which the special meeting was called.

Alderman Armistead states that he will make a fight for action on his ordinance at the next regular meeting of council. Mr. Armistead states that the calling of a bond election does not effect his ordinance.

CHANGE IN GEOGRAPHIES IS CAUSE OF PROTEST

Patrons of Schools May Ask
Board to Let Present Books
Stand

The action of the board of education Thursday in making an eleventh hour change of geographies in two grades has caused a storm of protest from parents of school children in all sections of the city.

The board will probably be asked to reconsider its action at its next meeting, which will be held before the first of the month. The board, by a vote of seven to three, selected the Tarr-McMurray geography for the fifth and seventh grades, leaving the Frye geography in use in the fourth and sixth grades for the next year. The three members of the board who voted against this change, which will cost the parents of the children who are already supplied with the Frye books, hundreds of dollars, were: Chairman Gunn, James L. Key and A. P. Morgan.

For the change were W. H. Terrell, Jesse W. Armistead, George F. Eubanks, J. N. Pierce, Aldine Chambers, Harvey Hatcher and Dan Green.

WARDLAW GETS PLACE.
The board Thursday afternoon elected J. C. Wardlaw, a member of the faculty of the State Normal school, at Athens, to the position of assistant superintendent of schools, which carries a salary of $3,000 per year and is one of the most important positions in the school department.

Mr. Wardlaw is a graduate of Emory college, having received both the A. B. and the A. M. degrees from that institution. He has also taken advanced courses at the University of Chicago. Mr. Wardlaw has been superintendent of schools at Dublin, Albany and Thomaston. He was for some time professor of pedagogy at the Georgia Normal and Industrial college at Milledgeville. For several years he has been at the State Normal and has also held a professorship at the summer school of the University of Georgia. He is president of the Georgia Educational association.

Mr. Wardlaw was present at the meeting of the board and accepted the position.

After the election of an assistant superintendent the board named the following new teachers: Misses Carlotta Alexander, Lucile Youngblood, Nell McFall, Anne Kleinachter and Marion Morris.

Miss Morris will teach science in the Girls' High school. Miss Georgia Crane was elected a supernumerary.

APPEAL FOR TEACHER.
Action upon an appeal from the Home for the Friendless to assign one of the school teachers to the institution, was deferred.

The board adopted a resolution by Aldine Chambers, which abolishes the present medical department of the schools and organized a new department which will be jointly controlled by the city health department and the board. Mr. Chambers expects his resolution to save the city $1,000 a year and to improve the efficiency of the department.

The Chambers' resolution provides for one chief medical inspector to devote all of his time to the work. He will receive $1,800 per year. For stated periods during the year he can employ assistants, not to exceed three in number at salaries of not exceeding $100 a year. There shall be five nurses in the department to work for six days in the week instead of five days, visiting the homes of the children, when school is not in session. The medical arrangement for the negro schools was not changed.

LANDRUM'S STATEMENT.
Superintendent L. M. Landrum Friday morning gave out a statement on the cost involved in the exchange of the geographies.

"The change applies," said Mr. Landrum, "only to two grades, the fourth and the sixth. The children of the fifth and seventh grades, who have had a year with Frye geographies, will continue with them. The elementary Tarr-

J. C. WARDLAW, of Georgia Normal faculty, who has been elected assistant superintendent of the Atlanta schools.

McMurray books for the fourth grade can be purchased for 50 cents each. If a child has a new primary Frye, which he has bought since June and has not used it, it can be exchanged at the book store for its full purchase price, 49 cents, which will enable him to get the Tarr-McMurray for the expenditure of only 15 cents additional. If he has an old primary Frye he can exchange it at the book store for a new Tarr-McMurray by the payment of 35 cents. "In the sixth grade the cash price of the Tarr-McMurray is $1. Where a child has purchased an advanced Frye since June and has not used the book he can return it and secure the Tarr-McMurray on the payment of 12 cents, the unused Frye being received at its purchase price of 38 cents. He can exchange an old advanced Frye for a Tarr-McMurray on the payment of 66 cents, and he can exchange an old primary Frye for the advanced Tarr-McMurray on the payment of 84 cents."

U. S. WILL NOT ALLOW EXTRADITION OF GERMANS Those Who Work in Ammunition Factories Need Not Fear Prosecution

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 23.—State department officials said today that Germans in the United States, who might be prosecuted, as was announced from Berlin last night, for working in ammunition factories in lands supplying war materials to Germany's enemies, were in no danger of extradition and would not come under the effects of the German law while they remain in the United States.

Should such Germans become naturalized Americans in the meantime and return to Germany at the close of the war they are protected by the naturalization treaty under which the United States could intervene in their behalf.

THEY ALL COME BACK TO ATLANTA, HE SAYS

W. R. Johnstone, of Wright-Johnstone Contracting Co., Is Back Here to Live

"People may leave Atlanta for a while but they all come back," declared W. R. Johnstone, of Wright-Johnstone Contracting company, who has just opened up his office again in Atlanta, after two years in Lincoln, N. C. The company moved its headquarters because of the large number of contracts which it had in North Carolina. Although back in Atlanta, it is still carrying on work in North Carolina and Mr. Johnstone announces that it has just landed a $100,000 contract in Wayne county, N. C.

Mr. Johnstone and his family have taken up their residence at 32 McLendon street.

WM. IVINS, LAWYER, DEAD IN NEW YORK

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, July 23.—William M. Ivins, a well known lawyer and for many years prominent in politics, died at his home here today. He was 64 years old.

Mr. Ivins recently was taken ill after his labors in behalf of William Barnes in the libel suit against Theodore Roosevelt.

Mr. Ivins died in the early hours of morning. Acute brights disease is given as the cause.

After the strenuous trial in Syracuse Mr. Ivins returned to New York and busied himself framing an appeal for Mr. Barnes. Then he announced that he felt tired out and would rest for a while. He had not since been at his downtown office.

Mr. Ivins for years was one of New York's leading lawyers. He held the offices of judge advocate general of New York state and city chamberlain. In 1905 he was the Republican candidate for mayor.

JAS. M. SULLIVAN QUILTS HIS DIPLOMATIC POST

Minister to Dominican Republic
Was Held Unfit for the Office

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 23.—James M. Sullivan, American minister to the Dominican republic, has tendered his resignation to President Wilson and it has been accepted.

Mr. Sullivan's resignation is the consequence of an investigation, conducted for the state department by Senator Phelan, of California, into the minister's fitness for his office. The findings were unfavorable to Mr. Sullivan.

Senator Phelan's report has been at the state department and before President Wilson several weeks. Soon after it was received it became known he had been asked to resign, and had been given a short time to consider it. Mr. Sullivan's brief term as minister in the island republic was attended by charges and counter charges as to his conduct. Walker W. Vick, collector of customs for the United States at the island, resigned because, it was stated, he had to work under unsatisfactory conditions brought about by Minister Sullivan.

"WATCH KRESS' WINDOWS"

An Imported Cigar (Porto Rican) for 5 cts. La TUNITA (Princesses Size)

And this price for an Imported cigar was not possible until the stars and stripes were raised over Porto Rico in 1898.

La TUNITA comes in FREE OF DUTY—weekly shipments directly to us to keep them fresh.

Porto Rico is as much a part of the West Indies as Cuba, and the tobacco grown there was the only tobacco ever brought to Havana from elsewhere in the old Spanish days.

Its quality is as fine, but admittedly it is milder, being grown on the mountain slopes, where the tropical heat is tempered by cooling winds.

Spanish natives, whose art is a family inheritance, make La TUNITA. Havana does not surpass these wonderful workmen.

When you get an Imported (Porto Rico) cigar for 5 cents, (Box of 50, $2.50) as you get it in La TUNITA, you are on ground occupied alone by UNITED CIGAR STORES. It's a ten years' test of one of our strongest claims.

A YEAR AGO TODAY
AUSTRIA TOUCHED
OFF SPARK OF WAR

while the Austrian army of invasion was crushed near the Drina river.

On September 22 the world was astounded when the German submarine U-9 sunk three British cruisers in the North sea.

Canada contingent of 22,000 troops was sent to England on September 24.

The siege of Antwerp was begun on September 28 and by October 8 the city had fallen. Meantime the Russians had swept through Poland in a drive for Posen and the Japanese bombardment of Kiaochow had started. The Japanese also were busy seizing German island possessions in the eastern waters.

The Belgian government moved again on October 13, this time to Havre, France, and the allies pushed over into Belgium. In Poland the great battle of the Vistula was begun within 20 miles of Warsaw.

OSTEND IS TAKEN BY GERMAN FORCES.

Between October 15 and 25 the Germans took Ostend, the first battle of Ypres had begun, and the Russians were winning in Poland. The U-9 had also been heard from again, sinking the British cruiser Hawke on October 18. On October 27 the British cruiser Audacious was torpedoed.

Meanwhile a rebellion had been started in South Africa on October 25, by General de Wet and General Beyers.

The bombardment of the Dardanelles by an Anglo-French fleet began November 2, and the day Turkey broke with the allies. On November 5 England and France declared war on Turkey, while Russian troops invaded Turkish territory.

Meantime a German squadron had bombarded the British coast near Yarmouth, while the allies pushed western Galicia the Russians were winning steadily, having retaken Jaroslaw.

In the east, Tientsin, the German stronghold, fell before the Japanese November 6. In France the Germans made desperate efforts to cross the Yser and Disembark.

On November 11 the Russians were able to swing in on Premysl and invest the city. In Egypt the Turks were having some small successes.

November 17 the floods in Belgium having increased, the first battle of Ypres was ended, and the Germans checked. In Poland, the Russian troops were falling back and losing thousands of prisoners to the Germans, while the Austrians were victorious at the end of November drew to a close with the Germans capturing the Serbian capital, after 126 days' siege.

BRITISH EASE THREE OF GERMAN SINKING.

A British squadron surprised a German squadron in the South Atlantic on December 8 and sank three of the enemy's ships with a loss of 3,000 lives.

By December 14 the Serbians recaptured Belgrade, after routing three Austrian army corps. The Serbians were driven back to the San.

Three towns on the eastern coast were bombarded by German warships on December 17 and the same day England declared a protectorate over Egypt.

The last part of December was marked by night Russian successes in Hungary and northern Poland but the Germans gained somewhat by a victory in East Prussia, on Christmas day. The same day British warships raided the German harbor of Cuxhaven on the North sea.

On January 1, 1915, the Russians were driven back over the Polish border and the British warship Formidable was torpedoed in the Thames.

The close of January brought a new Russian invasion of East Prussia with 80,000 men while on the western line each side gained and lost alternately.

February 5 Germany warned all vessels away from the waters around Great Britain after February 18.

On February 6 the Lusitania, to evade German torpedoes, flew the United States flag by order of the British admiralty. This was followed February 10 by a victory for the United States to Germany against its decree of marine warfare and to England against the use of neutral flags by British ships.

February 12 the czar's forces were driven from East Prussia with a loss of 50,000 prisoners, while the middle of the month was marked by several British air raids on the Belgian coast.

On February 18 Germany's famous marines "war zone" order was put into effect.

The month of February was rounded out by the big German victory in East Prussia. Great Britain's reply to the flag note denying any intention of the general use of neutral flags.

TELESCRIBE, EDISON'S LATEST,
MAKES ITS DEBUT IN ATLANTA

THE TELISCRIBE IN ACTION. Arthur H. Massey is shown using the machine in the office of the Baylis Office Equipment company, on South Broad street. Mr. Massey is seated at the ordinary telephone. He has taken its receiver off and clamped it on the Teliscribe, using another receiver attached to the Teliscribe to hear through. At his extreme right is the dictating machine equipped with a record which is catching every word uttered by Mr. Massey and the party on the other end.

Unique Invention Which Records Both Ends of Telephone Conversation Is Given Tryout Here

The telephone rang. "Hello, is that a Journal reporter?" said a voice on the other end.

"Yes," "Well, this is A. G. Moore, of the Edison company. I'm at the Baylis Office Furniture company, 1 South Broad street. I'm in Atlanta with the Teliscribe, Mr. Edison's latest invention that records a conversation over the phone. Can you come over? I'd like to show it to you."

"Sure, I'll be right over."

"All right, goodbye."

Five minutes later the reporter stood in the office of the Baylis company with Mr. Moore, the Edison representative. He was listening. This is what he heard: "Hello, is that a Journal reporter?"

"Yes—Well, this is A. G. Moore, of the Edison company. I'm at the Baylis Office Furniture company, 1 South Broad street. I'm in Atlanta with the Teliscribe, Mr. Edison's latest invention that records a conversation over the phone. Can you come over? I'd like to show it to you."

"All right, goodbye."

The Teliscribe is simply a combination of the phonograph and the telephone. It consists of two attachments. One is the ordinary dictating machine, somewhat improved, which has been in use in business for years. The other is the Teliscribe proper, a sensitive instrument with controlling buttons on which the receiver of the ordinary phone is clamped down. The words spoken into the telephone from both ends are transferred to the Teliscribe and thence to the dictating machine where a blank wax record catches every one.

The Teliscribe can be attached at a moment's notice to a telephone and released in a second. It has been tested from San Francisco to Orange, N. J., and the resulting record was a good one.

The effects the Teliscribe will have are manifold. With it attached any telephone conversation can be preserved as long as the record lasts. In discussing a business deal over the phone with another party the business man simply has to attach the Teliscribe, get the words recorded and then turn the record over to a stenographer to fill the order. Critics for supposed personal errors in receiving or transmitting telephone orders or doubt as to correct quotations will be done away with.

When a man declares, "But I didn't tell you that over the telephone," just put the record on him. He may not even know that it was attached when he talked to you, but the Teliscribe settles the argument.

Broad street. I'm in Atlanta with the Teliscribe, Mr. Edison's latest invention that records a conversation over the phone. Can you come over? I'd like to show it to you—Sure, I'll be right over—All right, goodbye—Goodbye."

This was the third telephone conversation ever Teliscribed in Georgia. The whole transaction took less than ten minutes, yet the words of both parties were indelibly impressed on the record and when it was put on the machine the conversation could be heard as distinctly and clearly as though two people were in the same room talking to each other.

This Teliscribe was brought to Atlanta by Mr. Moore, who is on a tour of the country exhibiting it. It is the latest result of Thomas A. Edison's inventive genius. He has been working on it for the past three years and only just completed it. It is not yet on the market.

The Teliscribe is simply a combination of the phonograph and the telephone. It consists of two attachments. One is the ordinary dictating machine, somewhat improved, which has been in use in business for years. The other is the Teliscribe proper, a sensitive instrument

TWO KILLED WHEN AUTO PLUNGES OVER HIGH BANK

Francis L. Bray and Miss May Daly Meet Instant Death

MEMPHIS, July 23.—Francis L. Bray, aged twenty-one, and Miss May Daly, twenty-two, were killed instantly when their automobile in which they were riding late last night plunged over a high embankment in Riverside park, near here.

The bodies were not discovered until early today. Bray's neck was broken when he was pinned beneath the car, and Miss Daly was thrown from the car against a tree.

"OUT-AND-IN" SCHMIDT PINCHED BUT RELEASED

After Serving Term Joe Got Few Beers and Cops Got Joe

Joe Schmidt got out of the stockade Thursday night after an eleven day stay. Then he got around several beer. Then the police got around Joe and arrested him.

"Here's 'out-again-in-again,'" remarked the bailiff as he brought Joe before the recorder Friday morning.

"Twelfth time to go to the stockade." But Joe made such protestations of reform and desire to go back to the farm and never see Atlanta again, that the recorder dismissed the case. And thus did Joe get around the judge.

GOVERNOR HARRIS NAMES PART OF MILITARY STAFF

General J. Van Holt Nash Re-appointed Adjutant General and Chief of Staff

Governor Harris, Friday afternoon, announced the appointment of a portion of his personal military staff, all of whom are eligible under the military law now existing, providing that each member shall have served in the state militia for a period of five years.

In making these appointments the governor stated that his staff was only partially completed, the remaining members to be named after the legislature meets on a bill pending that will give the chief executive the right to appoint his staff irrespective of military service age limit.

In accord with exclusive forecasts made in The Journal some time ago, Governor General J. Van Holt Nash, has appointed adjutant general and chief of staff, and Asa G. Candler, of Atlanta, colonel and chief of aides.

General Nash has held this office since January 1, 1913, when he was first appointed by ex-Governor Brown, and generally considered to be eminently qualified for the position. Under his direction, the state militia has made rapid strides forward.

The following seventeen members of the staff follow: Lieutenant colonel Frederick R. Mason, adjutant general; George M. Hope, Atlanta, major; George M. Hope, Atlanta, major; John D. Walker, Sparta; John Marshall, Atlanta; Charles P. Rowland, Savannah; John C. Woodward, College Park; Stephen V. Sanford, Atlanta; George L. Spence, Albany; William H. Camp, Atlanta; J. R. Nunnally, Milledgeville; Claude C. Smith, Atlanta; Cliff T. Williamson, Macon; Dennis Fleming, Albany; Oscar Palmour, Atlanta; William Eugene, Atlanta, and Ozy R. Horton, Milledgeville.

PHYSICALLY FIT FIREMEN URGED BY NEW CHIEF

W. B. Cody Asks Firemasters to Use Great Care in Selecting Men for Department

Chief W. B. Cody, of the fire department, urged the firemasters at their meeting Thursday evening to use especial care in selecting physically fit men for service in the department.

The new chief declared that an applicant for a position in the fire department should be at least five feet seven inches in height, should weigh at least 150 pounds and should be under thirty years of age.

Two superintendents, who came fully up to the chief's specifications, were named by the board. They were Alvin D. Argo and J. W. Goss.

The board of firemasters by resolution placed Chief Cody in complete charge of the city's system of underground cisterns, and named a committee to furnish the construction department, the insurance company and others interested, with the ordinance prohibiting the damaging filling up of the cisterns.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN IS KILLED IN INMAN YARDS

Initials "R. E. V." Marked in Collar Is Only Clue to Identity

The initials "R. E. V." are the only clue to the identity of a man who was killed early Friday morning by an outgoing freight train at the western end of Inman yards. The body was removed to H. M. Patterson's undertaking establishment, where a corner's inquest was held later in the day. So far no one has been found who knew the dead man.

There were no eye-witnesses to the accident, it is said, trainmen picking up the body a moment after it had been almost severed at the waist line by the engine wheels.

The man was well dressed in a dark suit, with a pair of overalls worn over the trousers. He wore a collar and tie and carried a gold watch. There were no papers in his pockets, only a bunch of keys. The initials were printed on the inside of his collar. He is about five feet five inches tall, thirty years old, with a gold tooth on the right side of his jaw.

WALTER DENNIS BREAKS RECORD FOR SETTING TYPE

Atlanta Boy, With Intertype Machine, Sets 14,700 Ems of Six Point in One Hour

News has reached Atlanta that the world's speed record for intertype composition has been broken by Walter N. Dennis, an old Atlanta boy and formerly an operator on The Journal.

Mr. Dennis has many Atlanta friends and several relatives living here. He was the husband of Lois Nelma Dennis, whose disappearance two years ago with her sister, Beatrice Nicks, resulted in a nation-wide but fruitless search.

Advices from New York state that Mr. Dennis, in a test witnessed by manufacturers of the intertype machine, set in one hour 14,700 ems of solid six point, which is equivalent to about 240 words a minute. The intertype is similar to the linotype machine.

PANAMA CANAL IS NOW ALMOST SUPPORTING SELF

Leaving Off Interest on Cost of Construction, It Is Making 5 Per Cent

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 23.—Counting only the cost of operation of civil government, sanitary work and administration and the handling of ships, the Panama canal is now on a paying basis, according to official reports.

Receipts for May not only wiped out the deficit of $28,480, which had grown up since the opening up of the canal traffic, but left a balance of $17,799, which works out a profit of 4.79 per cent on the expenditure.

This, however, does not make any allowance for interest on the vast sum of money expended in the construction of the canal and from that point of view the receipts from tolls have not yet equalled the expenses.

COLUMBUS OPPOSES CHANGES IN SCHEDULES

COLUMBUS, Ga., July 23.—Columbus business interests are lining up almost solid against the proposed change in schedule on the Southern railway between Columbus and Atlanta, which, if made, will make the Atlanta mail matter an hour later coming in and will prevent the answering of all eastern mail on the same day it arrives because of the early departure of the outgoing train.

Petitions are being circulated and freely signed today by members of the chamber of commerce, urging the railroad commission to disallow the change. These petitions will be taken before the commission at the hearing, which is set for July 27, by a committee of citizens representing the chamber of commerce, which will be joined in Atlanta by Representative Cecil Nell, and a strong fight will be made to prevent the change.

"Make straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame be not turned out of the way."
---Heb. 12-13

THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL licensed the Owls' Club.

At its door, a man shot to death a man with whom he had been drinking within.

They licensed the Eagles.

In the basement of the building, where they roost, a man was found dead beside a whisky flask. Another, who had drank there, was shot down before the door of Carnegie Library by his companion.

The Mayor and Council licensed the Druid Hills Club.

There, the bartender killed a waiter in a dispute over an order for drinks. IF the Mayor and Council had refused to license these clubs, would not these dead men be alive today? Think for yourself!

Each killing has cost Atlanta, Fulton County and Georgia, many times the license fees paid by these clubs. Murder trials are costly. And when the killer goes unpunished the cost cannot be computed in dollars and cents.

YOU must figure in the value of the life of the next man to be slain by those taught to believe that law means nothing.

You must appraise the suffering of his loved ones.

Then, look at this—

In spite of facts and protests, Mayor and Council have again licensed club after club, each one of which has broken the law.

In the last two weeks the Police have pulled five clubs.

Last Monday Council licensed again the Owls, the Terrace, the Greek and the University Clubs.

Wednesday night one of these was pulled.

What of the useless burden of expense? If the Mayor and Council had listened to pleading thousands, they would have saved the city this by refusing licenses to breakers of law. As it is, their action means more than a money loss.

The fostering of a contempt for law produces always such hideous results. It has ever in it such frightful possibilities that the heart grows sick at the thought.

This is the fruit of the near beer and locker club laws of Georgia.

WE BEG SENATORS AND MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE to consider coolly, dispassionately and carefully the condition in the capital of the State.

Some here seem bent on Beckerizing the Police Force.

Clubs are being licensed in the face of their own written statements showing thousands of dollars made in the liquor traffic.

Clubs claiming to be reputable are cloaking those notoriously organized to do a liquor business.

WE APPEAL—

SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES, repeal those laws which furnish the excuse for this disgrace!

If the rising tide of lawlessness is not stopped in the cities of the state, every county, every crossroads, every village, will have the blind-tiger masked as a locker club!

We ask YOU to end this shame before it is too late.

We attack no man. We have made no fight on any member of this house. We wish to fight none.

NOR do we impugn the motives of MESSRS. EAKES, FULLBRIGHT and SPEAKER BURWELL.

But we are forced to say that the bills known as the EAKES-FULLBRIGHT SUBSTITUTES, favorably reported by the Senate Committee on Temperance, and now before the Temperance Committee of the House, leave untouched the near-beer and locker-club laws.

We ask for the specific end of those evils.

If the bills mentioned are designed to end them, why not let them say so in words which none can misunderstand?

Make the path plain.

We beg you to rid Georgia of locker clubs and near beer.

Get the kinks and crooks out of the road!

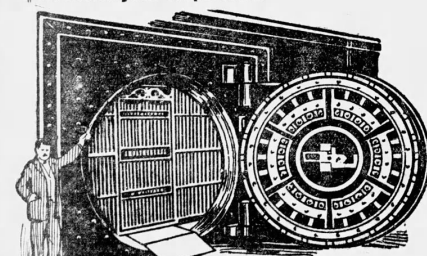

"Make straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame be not turned out of the way."

TODAY'S EVENING STORY

RASPBERRIES

(Copyright, 1915, by W. W. Weller.)

THE sun was hot and the black raspberries shriveled a little under it, because they had barely time to turn from immature red to rich blue black before old Mrs. Henderson's fingers pulled them off and into a crate. And now she worked fast, pulling the percale sunbunnet well over her grey head to hold off the heat of the sun. She was perspiring and her sides ached. It was aching work for a woman slightly over eighty years old, but she never paused for rest except at the end of every row and then merely long enough to glance apathetically at the slow filling crate.

Between the last row of Mrs. Henderson's berry patch and the yard next door ran an unpainted picket fence. Beyond this fence was another berry patch. And in this other patch another bent form, with grey hair showing from under a calico sunbunnet, stooping over bushes and crate and at the end of every row sending appraising glances into the crate.

And every once in a while one of the sunbunnets would lift and a pair of furtive old eyes would turn to the other yard only to drop hastily back should the other pair be turned toward the fence.

It is a bitter, tense race. Life in Jewville was not a matter of high or complicated finance. Given a small cottage, a yard of garden truck, berries and three apple and cherry trees with a cow and twelve chickens, it was a stupid old woman who couldn't make shift to get along quite comfortably. Milk and eggs saved and disposed of settled the tax question and even left surplus. Clothes were not important, but clothes and food and taxes paid do not altogether satisfy. The most contented of us hanker for an occasional luxury. Old Mrs. Henderson and old Mrs. Whiter were no exceptions. They had known each other all their lives—seen each other marry, bear children, bury children and husband, side by side, in other almost alike, each with a cow, chickens, garden and small patch of fruit, they lived for many comfortable years. And only when they had almost got beyond desire for luxury did each happen contrarily to desire something that the other had set her heart on. It was a cretonne tufted armchair—a lovely green flowered bit of furniture that Jedd, the upholsterer, had set in his widow and marked $9. It was worth $15 possibly. Had it been marked $15 both would have looked at it and thought no more of it. But only $9! That was a tantalization. Both looked and longed; went home to meditate; came back to look again. Secretly each had wanted just such a chair all her unsatisfied life. Secretly each was weary of having just enough for comfort, but never a bit of extravagance.

Presently each learned that the other wanted that chair. Then the race began. Eggs were scarce just then; the hens were setting, so that cut off one source of money. Mrs. Henderson made a dollar by having the earliest lettuce in that part of the county. She liked lettuce, too. It was hard denial to save every crisp leaf for Jones, the grocer. But Mrs. Whiter, though she had been too late with lettuce, made up with early strawberries. She saved $3. She borrowed and Mrs. Henderson gloated when her second cousin from the city came for a week's visit and part of that $3 had to go for "company's" vittuals. The second cousin left a beautiful black silk waist as indirect payment. But what was the waist when you were saving treuously for a chair?

The strawberry crop was a failure in each small patch. Two old women mourned privately and tried to be airily indifferent in public. Then came the raspberries. That crop was wonderfully big. Raspberries brought a dollar a crate. Every day each patch—there were nearly of a size—yielded a good haul. If the season was extra long each would have enough, counting two extra dollars, for chickens sacrificed out of season. The race began in earnest and a friendship of about fifty years was crushed out by cretonne cushions.

Mrs. Henderson reflected that she didn't see what Allie Whiter wanted with a chair like that, anyway. It didn't match her furniture. Now, with herself, it was different. Her niece Harriet had sent her a velvet rug, worn but in fairly good condition, that fair called for an excellent chair to keep it company.

Mrs. Whiter remarked to Mrs. Jensen, the neighbor next on the other side of her cottage, that she thought it was terribly foolish of her old people to wear themselves out trying to save for something they didn't need. Mrs. Whiter was two years older than Mrs. Henderson. The air was still that evening and her words carried clearly over the berry patch and fence. "And I was always pussed the younger when we were girls," she later confided lightly to Mrs. Jensen.

Mrs. Jensen, a tactful young matron. She bought a crate of berries each and asked each for a canning recipe. If there had been two chairs the

No. 1—Once, when I was complimenting the French headquarters with my presence, word came that one of the hospitals full of wounded soldiers was being fired upon by the enemy! Having my concrete mixer at hand, I lost no time in going to the rescue.

No. 2—I rode off, followed by cavalry. Very soon we approached the doomed building!

No. 3—Mid the bursting shells, I played a stream of my magical cement on the ruin! I rapidly reconstructed the building and at the same time made it shell proof!

No. 4—Soon the hospital was intact! I then proceeded to decorate it in the same manner. The firing soon ceased, as the building was impregnable.

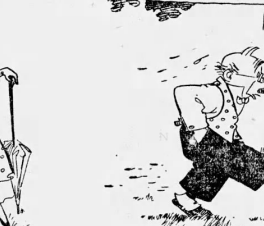

No. 5—I then petrified a score of the enemy's soldiers with my cement and placed them in front as a monument.

contest would never have been bitter. Perhaps had there been two chairs neither or would have wanted one so determinedly. But Jedd said not for love or money could he get another, except for $15. Each hurried back to her raspberry and plucked strenuously, knowing that life would be desolate should the other get the monetary.

The raspberries lasted well, but naturally they began to yield less at each picking. When Mrs. Henderson had now were worth very little, whereas if they were kept until September they would lay enough eggs to pay for themselves and over. But she felt that she would almost starve through the winter to get ahead of Allie Whiter and buy that chair. So she took the berries downtown and then went over to the butcher. He was willing to buy the hens and as willingly said her in advance, promising to come after them that evening. She was dismayed to learn from Mrs. Jensen, whom she met on the street, that Mrs. Whiter was having biscuit and cake for a widower pattern that she had set her heart on. "She's always done me harm," muttered Mrs. Henderson as she wearily climbed the hill to her home. "I wish she smiled spitefully and hurried over some had luck would come to her. I don't care if I'm wicked." She went miserably into her small home and set supper out. "I don't care. I do wish something would happen to her." Mrs. Henderson called Mrs. Jensen, excitedly, from the back yard. "Can't you come over? I'm afraid Mrs. Whiter is terrible sick."

Mrs. Henderson became pale. For a moment she was too frightened to move. Had she called for a judgment? She shook, she trembled, and then she hurried to the small house where Allie Whiter lay, a small, crumpled, least weakened bundle.

"She worked too hard, I guess," whispered Mrs. Jensen. "Baking all afternoon after picking berries in the hot sun. And then when she learned this afternoon that you had got the chair, she was so excited she couldn't rest. I guess that she had got ready to lay on Allie's forehead. Me? Why, didn't she get that chair?"

"Certainly not. Jedd told me it was sold. I thought you got it, and I took her."

Mrs. Henderson very tenderly pressed the cool cloth on the wrinkled old woman's forehead. "I guess we've been two old fools," she muttered.

And some time after old Allie Whiter agreed, with a tremulous chuckle.

TROOPS OF THE CZAR BATTLE DESPERATELY TO HOLD BACK ENEMY

although there has been some fierce fighting at a few points. The relations between Italy and Turkey indicated a formal declaration of war may be expected soon.

Sleep of Soldiers in West

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, July 23.—(Via London).—The war department today gave out the following communication:

"The night was considerably disturbed at several points along the front. In Artois, in the neighborhood of Souchez, there was violent cannonading and grenade fighting.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne, in the region of Quevaucelles, and on the plateau of Mouron, on the right bank of the Aisne, near Soupt, and in the Champagne front, several artillery actions also were reported.

"In the Argonne there was rifle and gun firing in the region of Bagatelle, where one of our companies succeeded yesterday in seizing part of the enemy trench, thus strengthening the front to our advantage.

"Pont-a-Mousson was intermittently bombarded during the night.

"In the region of Arracourt a strong hostile reconnoitering force supported by artillery, was turned back by our infantry and artillery.

"In the Vosges an attempted German attack against our positions southward of the Fays was easily repulsed.

"The positions we had won to the east of Metz on the crest of the Linge and Harenkamp were subjected to a very violent bombardment. The enemy momentarily succeeded in penetrating part of our lines, but was driven out by an energetic counter attack on our part."

French Claim Marked Advance Against Turks

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, July 23.—(Via London).—The French expeditionary force on the Gallipoli peninsula since June 21 in the region of Kereves were recounted in an official statement issued today.

"Four trenches, forming steps on a slope between the sea and a ravine overlooking the village were chosen as the objective for an attack on the 21st. Wind covered the battlefield with clouds of dust. Suddenly, about 11 o'clock, metallic flashes streaked the yellow shroud and there was a clash of bayonets and swords as the infantry leaped to the assault.

"One after another the trenches fell before the impetuous charge of the French troops, which carried them almost to the heights of Kiritlia beyond the farthest point at which the assault was aimed. An entire Turkish company, surprised in the first trench, surrendered without resistance.

"Counter attacks the following nights," continues the official report, "failed to budge the victorious French. The French left completed on June 30 the advance gained on the 21st, by capturing a group of communicating trenches called 'the quadrilateral' at the head of the Kereves Dore ravine. Seven lines were taken by assault, certain columns troops carried away by their enthusiasm pursuing the enemy beyond the objective fixed. These columns were almost surrounded, but were able to regain 'the quadrilateral.' We remained in undisputed possession of these trenches after the enemy had made one unsuccessful and disastrous counter attack. It was here that General Gouraud was wounded.

"On the night of July 4-5 the Turks, heavily reinforced, aided by aeroplanes and five cruisers of the Barbarossa type, undertook a general attack. They seemed to have lost their spirit, however. Their hesitating advance was met by the allies with a murderous fire which held them at the last possible moment and which inflicted terrible losses without a foot of gain for the enemy.

"Seventeen allied aviators attacked the enemy aerodrome at Chanak on the afternoon of the 4th. Explosive bombs were dropped on the principal hangar, which was set on fire.

"General H. J. E. Gouraud, who was commander of the French forces in the Dardanelles, was wounded by a shell which fell near an ambulance while he was visiting the wounded. His wound was not considered dangerous, but it was deemed advisable for him to return to France.

"The latest naval records show only two vessels owned by Turkey of the type of the Kheyr-Ed-Din-Barbarossa, which is classed as a battleship. The other is the Torgut Reis. Each of 3,500 tons displacement and both were purchased from Germany.

Italy Is About to Make War on Terrible Turk Too

(By Associated Press.)

ROME, via Paris, July 23.—Diplomatic relations between Italy and Turkey already strained, are becoming more tense because of the reported refusal of the Turkish government to permit Italian subjects to leave the Ottoman empire. It is believed here that a declaration of war by Italy in the near future is highly probable.

Reports from Cairo that a Turkish-German expedition has landed on Italian territory in Tripoli has aroused the ire of the Italian press.

Rome also has heard that a large number of Italian reservists have been detained at Smyrna on the pretense that passenger traffic has been stopped because of the port being closed, while other Italians are similarly detained at various points in Asia Minor, Syria and Arabia.

Although Italy is at war with Austria, there has been no declaration of hostilities against either Germany or Turkey, the allies of Italy's antagonist. It has been the belief in diplomatic circles that each side is waiting for the other to take the initiative and thus assume the responsibility for extending the scope of the conflict.

ESACSON IS READY TO BEGIN HIS TERM IN FEDERAL PRISON

newspapers thrust upon him at his trial have become his little joke. Writing to a friend Thursday, he said: "You will notice that I still have that 'million' with me. When I left New York it was $500,000. It grows every mile. If I sent on to Panama from Atlanta John D. Rockefeller wouldn't be in it with me for wealth."

Actually, Esacson is very poor. The Journal reporter he said: "If it wasn't that your kind restaurants give such a big slice of watermelon for 10 cents, I would have been hungry ever since reaching Atlanta."

David Esacson got his first glimpse of the federal prison Friday morning when he was taken to the building on Forsyth street, and remarked to U. V. Guber, the superintendent, that Atlanta was almost as big as Boston.

"You're a stranger here," asked Guber. "Let me take you upstairs and I'll reveal to you Atlanta."

As they stood on the roof of the building, Mr. Guber pointed toward the south. "That big white wall is the federal prison," he remarked.

"That big white wall is the federal prison," he remarked.

"You ought to go out and visit it," said Mr. Guber.

"I am," said Esacson, and took a copy of Thursday's Journal from his pocket. Mr. Guber looked at the picture on the front page and knaped.

Denies Backing Huerta

GERMANY GETS A FINAL WORD: U. S. PREPARES PROTEST TO BRITAIN

they could address inquiries to Germany on statements made by British passengers alone. Now in possession of statements by Americans, the United States probably will ask the Berlin foreign office for its version.

London, Field Malone, customs collector at New York, today presented at the treasury department a report of his investigation of the German submarine attack on the Cunard liner Orduna. Later he conferred with President Wilson and Secretary Lansing. Mr. Malone said he did not discuss the Orduna case with the president. Mr. Malone's report included affidavits and statements by officers, crew members of the line, which carried a score of Americans, detailing that the attack came without warning, that a torpedo missed the ship by ten feet, and that shells from a deck gun on the submarine were fired at the Orduna.

The investigation was made on a statement to the state department by William O. Thompson, of Chicago, counsel for the industrial relations commission, one of the Americans on the liner.

Officials of the treasury and state departments will decide later if the report shall be made public.

It was understood that at least one of the affidavits was by an American who swears he saw the torpedo pass the stern of the Orduna and that he also saw the shells fired at the ship strike the water. Treasury officials, however, declined to comment on that.

State department officials have indicated that active interest of the United States in the incident depended largely on whether any evidence, other than British evidence, could be gathered to show that the Orduna was attacked without warning.

TROOPS MAY BE NEEDED AT BAYONNE, N. J., TODAY

(By Associated Press.)

Militia Will Be Called Out if Situation at Standard Oil Plant Gets Worse

NEW OIK, July 23.—The authorities of New Jersey were trying today to keep order at the Standard Oil plant in Bayonne without calling out the militia. At the same time it was stated that if the strike situation became worse the militia could be called into service at an hour's notice.

During his absence the president will consider the next step in his Mexican policy and the new note to Great Britain protesting further against interference to commerce with neutrals.

Secretary Lansing will go to Manchester, Mass., tonight to visit Colonel E. M. House, President Wilson's close personal friend. He will be only a few hours' ride from Cornish but he said today he did not expect to visit the president.

Admiral Kinkaid, who asked the governor to send troops to Bayonne yesterday, had 250 deputies guarding the oil plant all night and searchlights mounted on the roofs of the buildings sweeping the walls of the plant and streets nearby. There was no disorder during the night, but the sheriff was convinced that he could not, with the force at his disposal, control the situation today.

GOLD PRODUCTION IN ALASKA IS INCREASING

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Alaska's gold production in 1914 was valued at $13,744,250, an increase of $140,000 over the previous year, figures made public today by the geological survey showed.

Production of copper amounted to 21,406,625 pounds, against 21,659,858 in 1913. The total mineral output was $19,118,080 compared with $19,47
